Who We Are

Your Life, Your Schedule
A top-notch legal education should not just be for one kind of student. At LMU Loyola Law School (LLS) we have made it our mission to ensure our nationally renowned Evening Program is accessible and flexible enough for even the busiest of lives. No compromise.

The Schedule
• First-year classes held 3 nights per week, 6-10 p.m.
• 3.5-4 years to complete, including at least one summer session
• You can continue to work full-time (many evening students still log 30-40 hours at their day jobs).

Still the Best of the Best
As an Evening Program student, you’ll be taught by the same elite faculty, connected to the same outstanding alumni network and part of the same LLS family.

Elite Faculty
All required courses in the Evening Program are taught by full-time law school faculty. And that’s saying something, as our professors are drawn from among the finest attorneys and academics in the nation.

Evening electives are often taught by members of the federal and state judiciary and some of the most prominent local experts in their specialties.

The Academics
After the first year and a half of required courses, evening students are free to create a schedule that suits their life. You can take classes day or evening, all year long.
Experiential Learning at Its Best

With the possibility for participation in externships, student orgs, law reviews and moot court, your LLS Evening Program experience is sure to be a rich one.

Externships
After the first year, evening students are eligible for externships at top law firms, public interest organizations, government offices, and federal and state courts.

Student Organizations
More than 40 professional, academic and diversity organizations are available to serve and represent you as an LLS evening student.

Law Review & Moot Court
Access to our three renowned law reviews and 10+ trial advocacy and moot court teams will give you the practical, hands-on learning LLS is famous for. All evening students who have completed the first two years of law school are eligible.

Access for All
Our Evening Program students come with a breadth and depth of both work experience and life experience. And it is this diversity—of background and ideas—that makes the LLS Evening Program one of the best in the nation.

WHO SAYS WHAT
“We’ve navigated the work force, worked in a few different arenas, started families and made the difficult choice to go to law school. We are in law school because we want to be here. I think because of that, the rhetoric in the classroom is so much more rich and diverse.”
— Josie Lopez ’19,
Evening Student

“Evening students have consistently been some of the best students. A commitment to public interest work is essential for working in a clinic like ours, and evening students have demonstrated that commitment again and again.”
— Christopher Hawthorne ’00, Clinical Professor of Law, Director of the Juvenile Innocence & Fair Sentencing Clinic
