

GARY WILLIAMS
Loyola Law School

Professional Experience:

2010 - present, Johnnie L. Cochran Jr. Chair in Civil Rights Professor of Law; 1994 - 2010, Professor of Law; 1989 - 1994, Associate Professor of Law, Loyola Law School (Los Angeles). Subjects taught: Evidence; Ethical Lawyering; First Amendment; Negotiation; Civil Rights Litigation.

1987 - 1989, Visiting Professor of Law, Faculty Clinical Director, Loyola Law School (Los Angeles). Subjects: Evidence; Ethics, Counseling and Negotiation.

1985 - 1987, Assistant Legal Director, ACLU Foundation of Southern California.

As Assistant Legal Director I was responsible for handling the ethical issues arising in the legal work of the ACLU Foundation and supervising junior staff counsel. In addition to these duties I carried a full docket, including a major test case on the free speech rights of students under the provisions of the California Constitution. Leeb v. DeLong (1988) 198 Cal.App.3d 47.

1979 - 1985, Staff Attorney, ACLU Foundation of Southern California.

1976 - 1979, Staff Counsel, Agricultural Labor Relations Board.

Publications:

"The Wrong Side of the Tracks: Territorial Rating and the Setting of Automobile Liability Insurance Rates in California", 19 Hastings Constitutional Law Quarterly 845 (1992); "Can Government Limit Tenant Blacklisting?," 24 Southwestern University Law Review 1077 (1995); "California's Constitutional Right to Privacy: Can It Protect Private Figures from the Unauthorized Publication of Confidential Medical Information?," 18 Loyola Entertainment Law Journal 1 (1997); "On the Q.T. and Very Hush Hush: Should California's Constitutional Right to Privacy Protect Public Figures From Publication of Confidential Personal Information?," 19 Loyola Entertainment Law Journal 337 (1999); "Don't Try to Adjust Your Television – I'm Black: Ruminations on the Recurrent Controversy Over the Whiteness of TV," 4 Journal of Gender, Race & Justice 99 (2000); "Incubating Monsters?: Prosecutorial Responsibility for the Rampart Scandal," 34 Loyola Law Review 829 (2001) ". Publication pending - "Protecting the right to be let alone post Dobbs: A state constitutional strategy" Santa Clara Law Review (2024)

Book: Evidence; A Structured Approach, 6th Edition (2024) (co-authored with Victor Gold and Kevin Lapp)

Service

In June of 2023 I assisted Dean Kathleen Kim by organizing and moderating a panel discussion for the Western People of Color Legal Scholarship Conference and the Conference of Asian Pacific American Law Faculty, held at Loyola Law School. The panel was entitled "Dobbs, Diminishing Rights, and the Devolution of Democracy." The speakers were Professor Michele Goodwin of UC Irvine School of Law, Kaipo Matsumura of Loyola Law School, and Hillary Schneller of the Center for Reproductive Rights. I recruited the speakers, created the structure and agenda of the panel discussion, introduced the topic and speakers, and coordinated the question and answer session.

Outside Activities:

Member, Board of Directors, ACLU of Southern California. Member, Board of Directors, and Co-Chair Governance Committee. Past Director, National Institute for Trial Advocacy, Southern California Regional Program.

Past member, Board of Directors, National ACLU; Senator Barbara Boxer's Judicial Appointments Committee for the Central District of California (1993-94). Past Member, Board of Visitors, Stanford Law School (1987-1993). Past Member, Board of Directors, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Southern California Chapter. Past Chair, Mount Hebron Baptist Church Board of Directors (stepped down effective June 30, 2021).