

2011-12 Honor Roll of Donors

(June 1, 2011 – May 31, 2012)

Thank you—two simple words expressing my most sincere gratitude to the thousands of alumni and friends who made a donation to the Law School this past year. Your support continues to make a tremendous and positive impact on the students, community and future of Loyola Law School.

Donations to the Law School allow for immediate funding to help students with much needed financial support and allow faculty to create programs and centers that provide assistance to the underserved while enriching the educational experience for students through hands-on, practical training. Annual donations also provide critical funding to maintain and improve campus facilities. Additionally, support from alumni and friends have a greater and far reaching impact—preparing Loyola students who will be future leaders that will use their law degrees to better our society. A law degree continues to be the primary tool that

Dean's Message

From the bottom of my heart, thanks to the thousands of you who made a contribution to Loyola Law School this past academic year, which marked the end of our "Right Place, Right Time" fundraising campaign. Launched in 2000, our goal for the campaign was ambitious—$40,000,000. For a law school that had accumulated an endowment of about $20,000,000 over the previous 80 years, this was a tall order.

I am delighted to report that we not only achieved our goal, we blew right past it. The total was more than $46,000,000. But the story is not written in numbers, it is written in peoples' lives.

- Since the beginning of the campaign, Loyola has more than doubled the amount of scholarship money we give out each year to nearly $9 million.
- We added 10 endowed professorships. Several are named after legendary Loyola teachers like Christopher N. May, William G. Coskran, David P. Leonard and Hon. Frederick J. Lower, Jr. Others bear the name of illustrious alumni like Johnnie L. Cochran, Jr., Thomas V. Girardi and David W. Burcham.
- Loyola created new clinics and public interest programs that give students hands-on training, promote professionalism and advance our social justice mission. All of these programs were created during the campaign: The Center for Juvenile Law and Policy, the Alarcón Advocacy Center, the Advocacy Institute, the Business Law Practicum, the Civil Justice Program, the Journalist Law School, the Military Veterans Justice Project, the Center for the Study of Law and Genocide, and the Center for Restorative Justice.

- We built one of the finest advocacy training facilities in the nation: the Girardi Advocacy Building, which includes the Robinson Courtroom.

Loyola has emerged from this campaign with a national reputation for excellence. Our first-time takers on the 2011 California summer bar passed at a rate of 84 percent, higher than both UC Hastings and UC Davis, and just one point behind UCLA. Our rankings in U.S. News & World Report improved again, putting us at number 51 out of almost 200 accredited law schools—our best rank ever. U.S. News also ranks Loyola Law School in the top 10 in the nation in Trial Advocacy and Tax Law. Our Legal Writing program is 21st in the nation. The Princeton Review ranks Loyola in the top 10 in the nation for "Best Classroom Experience," "Best Environment for Minority Students" and "Best Professors." The National Jurist also ranks Loyola's Public Interest Program in the top 10.

None of this would have been even remotely possible without your support. But as much as Loyola has accomplished over the past few years, we continue to depend on your help. The challenges posed by today's economy are the greatest I have seen in my 28 years on our faculty. The job market for entry level lawyers remains weak and the cost of legal education is high. Tuition is more than $40,000 at every law school in California. This is why scholarships continue to be Loyola's top fundraising priority. If your Law School education made a positive difference in your life, the best way to give thanks is to help the next generation of Loyola students through this tough time.

Once again, I thank you for your support and friendship. I look forward to working with you in the upcoming academic year.

Sincerely,

Victor Gold
